

Chesham Fringe Festival 2025 – a celebration of the arts this May

This late May Bank Holiday, from Friday 23 to Sunday 25 May, Chesham Fringe Festival returns with three days of live music, theatre, comedy, kids' shows, spoken word and cabaret at venues across Chesham town centre - and we'd love your school community to be able to get involved!

Whilst we have over 120 acts over the three days, here we're drawing your attention to the more family-friendly performances for younger audiences, including:

- Olaf Falafel's Stupidest Super Stupid Show So Far: award-winning children's comedian
- Marcel Lucont's Les Enfants Terribles: interactive kids' gameshow
- Kirsty's Family Singalong Party: the ultimate feel-good show for all the family
- Bam Bam's Big Show: fun-packed comedy magic show
- Halls of Ridiculous Discount Comedy Checkout Family Show: children's ideas, suggestions and stories brought to life by talented comedy improvisers
- PQA Amersham – talented local youngsters perform a murder mystery comedy
- School's Out Comedy Club – award-winning joke show
- Lehane Rock School – get to try different instruments guided by experienced instructors

Evening entertainment for parents too!

Once the younger members of the family are tucked up for the night, the live comedy, music, theatre, cabaret and more continues late into the evening at venues across the town centre. There's a whole host of acts for adults to enjoy – much more than we can fit in here – see our website www.cheshamfringe.com for the full line-up!

Schools... get involved!

We invite local schools to:

- Share the event with students and families and encourage attendance, which could help with learning, interaction, confidence-building and creativity
- Be inspired by what you see and enquire about group visits or performance opportunities for school choirs, drama clubs or young performers at next year's festival. Contact us at info@cheshamfringe.com We look forward to hearing from you!
